A. Webster Passed Away At Vancouver

The Brigadier spoke of the Army's work among the service men and also made it emphatic that it was the spiritual touch that salvationists valued most in this channel of their service.

In his evening lesson the Brigadier said the army still believed in the power of God to raise a man who was down and lift him up to a new spiritual plane. "Clean up the man," he said, "and you will clean up the nation." He spoke of the war and the possibility of a lasting peace by saying that until men and women ceased to war in their hearts against the will of God, there would be no lasting peace.

The meeting ended with a real Army invitation to seek Christ and an invitation song.

The Salvation Army hall was packed to capacity to hear the Brigadier and to join in the happy songs.

CITY OF ROSTOV HAS BEEN A MAJOR BATTLE SCENE FOR OVER A YEAR

Five hundred thousand Russian people once lived in the city of Rostov. It is doubtful whether many are there now. It also is doubtful whether Rostov even resembles what it once was—the greatest city in southern Russia.

For Rostov has been a major battleground for more than a year. It changed hands three times from November of 1941, until the present campaign. The tides of war that surged and ebbed around it have left little but ruins.

Rostov is more than the gateway to the Caucasus; more than a key to the industrial and mineral riches of the Donets basin. It is also a symbol of Russia's unconquerable courage, such as Stalingrad and Leningrad.

The slopes surrounding the city, built on the hills commanding the Don valley, are strewn with the corpses of countless Russians, Germans, Italians, Rumanians and Hungarians.

It was on November 22, 1941, that a massive German army forced its way into Rostov for the first time. Hundreds of thousands of Axis soldiers had beaten at the gates of the city for weeks before the Russians yielded. And from Hitler's headquarters came the triumphant boast that the riches of the Soviet Caucasus now were within Germany's grasp.

But one week later, Russia's first great hero of this war, Marshal Timoshenko, came storming back with his Don Cossacks and blasted the Germans from the city. For the first time—the legend of German invincibility had been shattered. Timoshenko didn't stop at the western fringes of Rostov. He chased the Huns all the way to Taganrog—40 miles beyond the city.

The Germans conceded that they had "withdrawn from the city"—as they phrased it, and, stung by this first real German defeat of the war, threatened to blow Rostov to ashes with bombs and shell-fire. The German reprisals were prompted by the actions of the civilian population which, the Germans charged, "violated international law" by joining in the fighting.

Russian re-occupation of Rostov lasted just eight months. On July 27, 1942, German General Ewald Von Kleist, the Nazi tank expert, led an army of 500,000 men with vast numbers of tanks and planes against the city. The Russians again yielded after weeks of unprecedented fighting in which both sides suffered enormous casualties. Once more, the Caucasus was opened to the invader and the German march to the east continued almost without striking distance of the Caspian sea.

Recent history records how that drive finally was stopped; how the Russians rebounded and launched their greatest offensive effort to date; and how they came all the way back through the Caucasian valleys, and down from Stalingrad to bring Rostov once more within range of their siege guns.

In peacetime, Rostov was a bustling commercial city with a fishing industry, iron smelter and four mills. And it was the market place for the wheat and other farm products of the fertile land between the Don and the Caucasus mountains. Nothing much more than that.

But in war, Rostov takes its place in military annals alongside Moscow, Leningrad and Stalingrad, its contribution being the proof it offered that the German army was not invincible and could be whipped.

Pipe Tobacco And Cigarettes Will Be In Larger Packages

Ottawa.—Officials of the prices board's tobacco administration forecast that, with a few local exceptions, supplies of small packages of cigarettes and pipe tobacco will be exhausted by the end of this month.

The board's announcement said that although two months will elapse before the regulation eliminating the packaging of pipe tobacco in smaller quantities than 1-13th of a pound and cigarettes in packages of fewer than 18 comes into effect, manufacturers have already discontinued these lines.

Supplies available now are largely in retail stores; when these are exhausted there will be no more for the duration.

FOR FARM WORK

Plan To Use Prisoners Of War Is Being Discussed

Ottawa.—Discussions are taking place with a view to the employment of prisoners of war on farms during the coming crop season but so far no decisions have been reached, it was learned.

The selective service branch of the labor department, the department of agriculture and the defence department which has custody of the prisoners are involved.

"We have plenty of prisoners in Canada if authority is granted to use them," said one defence department official.

SAYS GOOD PROGRESS IS BEING MADE IN THE BATTLE AGAINST ENEMY SUBMARINES

London.—Prime Minister Churchill told the House of Commons that "progress is being made" in the battle against enemy submarines, and said that in the last six months new building of ships in Britain, U.S. and Canada "exceeded all losses of the United Nations by over 1,250,000 tons."

"We are holding our own and more than holding our own," he said in the course of his eagerly-awaited report to the house.

"In the last six months Anglo-American and important Canadian new building (of ships) exceeded all losses of the United Nations by over 1,250,000 tons."

"That is to say, our joint fleet is 1,250,000 tons bigger today than it was six months ago."

He said he intended to "leave the enemy guessing at the real figures" in U-boat warfare; "to let him be the victim of his own lies."

It was recalled that Mr. Churchill had previously credited the German lack of knowledge of the Allied shipping situation for the ease in which North Africa was occupied by a joint Anglo-American army.

Mr. Churchill said: "The great American flow of shipbuilding is leaping up month by month and losses in the last two months are the lowest for over a year."

"We have had hardly any losses in our heavily-escorted troop convoys," he said. "Out of about 3,000,000 souls who have been moved under protection of the British navy, only 1,348 have been killed or drowned, including the missing."

"The rate of killing U-boats has steadily improved. From January to October, 1942, inclusive, a period of 10 months, the rate of sinkings—certain and probable—was the best we have seen so far in this war. But from November to the present date, a period of three months, the rate has improved more than half as much again."

At the same time, Mr. Churchill said, "the destructive power of the U-boat has undergone a steady diminution. In the first year of the war the operational U-boat accounted for an average of 19 ships, in the second year 12 and in the third 7½."

Mr. Churchill predicted: "We shall be definitely better off as far as shipping is concerned at the end of 1943 than now."

He did not give specific figures, and despite his optimistic picture of U-boat warfare he warned: "The losses we suffer at sea are very heavy and they hamper us and delay our operations, and thus prolong the war."

He declared the enemy cannot avert defeat as he hopes by U-boat warfare. "U-boat warfare takes first place in our thoughts," he said. "There is no need to exaggerate the danger of U-boats; or worry our seamen by harping upon it unduly, because the British and American governments have known for some time past that there were these U-boats about, and have given the task of overcoming them first priority in all their plans."

"This was reaffirmed most explicitly by the combined staffs at Casablanca."

CBC To Allow Parties To Express Views At Provincial Elections

Ottawa.—Dr. James S. Thomson, general manager of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, announced that its brand of governors has decided to grant time on CBC network stations during provincial elections to allow the various parties to present their views to the electors.

Hitherto, arrangements for broadcasting during elections have been confined to the field of federal politics. It is expected that the same method that has obtained in Dominion elections will apply in the provincial field where the political parties have themselves drawn up a basis of mutual agreement for the allocation of broadcasting time.

TERM HAS EXPIRED

Ottawa. Milton N. Campbell, former member of parliament for Mackenzie riding in Saskatchewan, has vacated the position of vice-chairman of the Canadian tariff board on the expiry of his 10-year term to the board.

NEW LABOR BOARD IS APPOINTED TO DEAL WITH INDUSTRIAL LABOR DISPUTES

Ottawa.—Transformation of the national war labor board into something more like an "industrial court" was announced in the House of Commons by Prime Minister Mackenzie King.

Under the new set-up the former 12-member board is reduced to three, all new men to the board's activities, who will be assisted by former members of the board either as expert advisers or as members of an advisory committee.

Mr. King announced the appointments of Senator Joseph J. Benoit, St. Catharines, Ont., and J. L. Cohen of Toronto as members of the board to be associated with Mr. Justice C. P. McTague of Toronto whose appointment as chairman was announced previously.

The new board will hold its sittings in public whereas the old organization met behind closed doors. Mr. Justice McTague informed The Canadian Press it will get down to business this week on the wage dispute in the steel industry which caused recent strikes at Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., and Sydney and Trenton in Nova Scotia.

The former board consisted of Labor Minister Mitchell, as chairman, Arthur MacNamara, deputy minister, as vice-chairman, five representatives of employees and five of employers. Mr. King said both Mr. Mitchell and Mr. MacNamara now were too busy with departmental duties to carry on. None of the other members will be dropped.

George Hodge of Montreal, an employers' representative, and J. A. MacLennan of Valois Que., an employees' representative who with the chairman and vice chairman constituted an executive committee which did most of the business of the former board, will continue as expert advisers to the new, three-member board.

The other former board members, John A. Paul of Toronto, William Dunn of Toronto, A. R. Mosher of Ottawa and Gerard Picard of Quebec, all representing employees; and A. Deschamps of Montreal, G. Jackson and H. Taylor of Toronto, H. Stovel of South Porcupine, Ont., representing employers, will constitute the advisory committee.

Mr. Justice Charles McTague of Toronto, chairman of the national war labor board, said in a statement that the board feels it is expected to correct "injustices" in wage rates which come to its attention.

But, he said, "by the same token it is our view that the (wage stabilization) order, as a wartime measure, does not contemplate changes in wages or working conditions which do not find their justification in the correction of improper or depressed conditions."

Mr. Justice McTague's statement, issued shortly after Prime Minister Mackenzie King made a statement on the board in the House of Commons, said:

"While the board hopes to establish a consistent jurisprudence and by public hearings and published judgments and reasons to acquaint the public fully with the principles upon which the board proceeds in applying the wages order, much as would be the case if we were a court of industrial relations, we feel that it is our understanding that neither the government or the text of the order which we now are charged with administering expects or requires a legalistic or narrow technical approach particularly in cases where by comparison with others, or having regard to standards reasonably necessary for a proper livelihood or the maintenance of proper morale, wage rates are inadequate or depressed."

"It is our view that the order contemplates that the board will correct such injustices insofar as they come before the board and are included in its scope."

By the same token it is our view that the order, as a wartime measure, does not contemplate changes in wages or working conditions which do not find their justification in the correction of improper or depressed conditions."

Percy Boughough, acting president of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, and Pat Conroy, secretary-treasurer of the Canadian Congress of Labor issued statements expressing approval of the new national war labor board set-up announced in the House of Commons by Prime Minister Mackenzie King.

HEAVY LOSSES SUSTAINED BY GERMAN ARMY IN RUSSIA PLACES NAZIS ON DEFENSIVE

London.—Germany's misadventures in Russia have cost her army the power to mount big-scale land offensives in 1943, in the belief of a diplomatic and military source with access to confidential information. It is likely, therefore, he said, that Hitler's hinted plan to follow a defensive strategy this year was dictated by a real shortage of manpower.

This source said extremely reliable information from inside Germany—supported by the recent Nazi order for a complete civilian mobilization by March 15—indicates that Hitler has agreed to follow a high command recommendation to shorten defensive lines in the east simply because Germany lacks the men and material for the longer ones held in 1941 and 1942.

Hitler agreed the German army withdraw to a winter line running roughly from Sevastopol through Dnepropetrovsk, Kursk, Kharkov, Orel and Bransk, according to this source.

As the disaster of Stalingrad was followed by threats of similar debacles, the source said, a new line running from Nikolaevo through Gomel and Kiev to Vitebsk was reported to have been agreed upon, and this is the line the German army apparently is headed for.

But the Germans, he continued, are so hard pressed by the Russians, who already have pierced the Kursk line, that the Nazis are losing more troops and equipment than they expected any may have difficulty holding the Nikolaevo-Vitebsk line.

If the Nazis do reach it and restore stability, he said, the best indications are they still won't have much punch for anything like their old-time 1,000-mile front attacks.

Reliable reports indicate the high command will dictate the local offensives only in 1943 as defensive measures rather than for the acquisition of territory.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

STICK TO YOUR WAR SAVINGS CERTIFICATES

No better interest rates are paid on any Canadian war financing securities than on War Savings Certificates, - if you hold them until full maturity.

They are meant to be held, not cashed. Canada promised that it would cash the certificates under certain circumstances, but this was done to avoid hardship in special cases, not because cashing a Certificate before maturity was anything but bad for the owner and bad for Canada.

That promise will be kept of course, as Dominion of Canada financial obligations have always been kept, - to the letter. But too many thoughtless owners of War Savings Certificates are asking Canada to give them back their cash now, - without any good reason, except that they want to spend the money - and at a time when the money is badly wanted to fight the Battle of Freedom.

Every person who buys a Certificate does a patriotic action, and at the same time gets himself a good investment and a cushion against post-war hard times.

Every person who cashes in a Certificate unnecessarily, does an unpatriotic action, cheats himself of part of its value, and weakens the shock absorber which may save him from nasty post-war bumps.

The Certificate for which you pay $4. now, is worth $5 if you keep it to maturity. If you cash it in after six months you only get $4 for it. Net loss $1!

And actually you lose more than that, because by spending your $4 at present high prices you get less value per dollar than you will when prices are back to normal.

Farmers have learned all about the differences in the purchasing power of money, by painful experience. That is one reason why they are among the least offenders in this matter. The group which shares this honor with the farmers is the financial group, the men who each year buy the maximum amount of War Savings Certificates allowed by the regulations.

The financiers to whom one-tenth of one per cent. means a lot of money, - who understand the exact value of money and interest in terms of what it is really worth, hang on to their War Savings Certificates like grim death. It is the best paying thing they can find in investments. It is so good in fact that in order to prevent them buying huge amounts of War Savings Certificates instead of Victory Bonds, the government limits their purchases to $480 per head, per year.

PROVINCE SHOULD REDUCE AUTO. LICENCE

Alberta motorists are following with intense interest the arguments being put forth by the Alberta Motor Association to the provincial government regarding a 50 per cent. reduction in Alberta automobile licenses for 1943. The Association gained a powerful ally this week when Calgary city council passed a resolution to be placed before the provincial government asking for a 50 per cent. reduction in auto. licenses.

Millions of dollars have been paid by the motorists of this province into the general fund of the provincial treasury and for which they have received very little in return in the way of hard-surfaced roads. Now that the province's profit from the liquor traffic will be sharply curtailed this year it would appear that the supporters of the Alberta motorists have a hard task to persuade the government to further reduce current revenue.

Since there will be no hardsurfacing worth mentioning in 1943 and little maintenance work done it is only fair the motorist be given the break that has long been overdue him in the matter of taxation. Champions of the motorists' cause would do well to follow Calgary city council's example and petition the provincial govt. to reduce by 50 per cent. the 1943 auto. licenses.

EMPLOYER'S REPORT

Francis J. Lote, manager of the local Employment and Selective Service Office, pointed out that last Saturday, February 6, was the deadline for the special reports employers are required to turn in to National Selective Service offices. These reports cover a classification of the employees of each company, firm or business as at January 30. Mr. Lote states that employers who have not made reports up to this time, must do so at once. The reports, required under order of Hon. Humphrey Mitchell, Minister of Labour, are very necessary for planning of manpower distribution in the next several months.

Mr. A. MacNamara, director of National Selective Service, points out that each and every employer (except farmers and householders employing domestic help) must make the return, regardless of the number of their employees. The Director also states that some early returns received from offices and executive employees in the entries: all employees should be included. Also, some reports fail to forecast probable working staffs at April 30. These figures, too, must be given. Please follow instructions contained in letter sent from Ottawa. At present there are 40 delinquent employers in the Blairmore area.

A weekly newspaper is the mirror of community activities. It gives liberally of its space to the recording of interesting activities of all organizations. Yet there often is a lack of appreciation for courtesies extended, by those who appear to regard a newspaper as an avenue for free publicity which really constitutes advertising. That's where a newspaper has to draw the line, or it would be swamped with advertising under the guise of free publicity.

Advancement comes to those who not only accept responsibility but can be depended upon to carry on without supervision. The man who succeeds in any avenue of life is he who is his own supervisor and disciplines himself so that he may carry on his own job to the utmost efficiency. A man who does his own job well, no matter what it may be, is bound to command the attention when promotions are made.

Because religion is free to all, is no reason to imagine the church can live on good wishes alone. Too often there are those whose only entry into a church is when they are married or after they have died. Those are at least two occasions when they have the services of a minister.

A Long List of Worthwhile Achievements

Canada is now well into the fourth year of the war. Her land is in the best possible condition, production is at the peak, prices average 40 per cent higher than at the beginning of the war, and the supply of food is so large that it cannot possibly be exhausted in less than two years. The above statements were made by Hon. J. G. Gardiner, federal minister of agriculture, in a recent public address.

Beachcomber, one of two pigeons liberated from Dieppe beach, carrying in duplicate the first operational message of the Canadian-British landing, arrived safely at headquarters after flying through heavy anti-aircraft fire at about 50 miles an hour. The other pigeon was shot down.

MRS. JENNINGS had been just managing to keep her family going. But things were looking brighter at last. Now with the children able to help with the housework, she had applied for the post of school teacher : : : and had been accepted.

But that meant she needed suitable clothes and clothes cost money.

She took her problem to the manager of her bank. On the strength of her ability and character, he arranged a loan of $80. And so it was that she was able to take the position and greet her first class proudly. She paid off the loan after six months at a cost in interest of only $2.40.

This is a true story. Only the name has been altered. It is typical of hundreds of human dramas in which the bank manager has been privileged to play a helping role.

War's requirements have increased immensely the work of banks and bank staffs. At the same time more than one-third of our experienced men have enlisted. Bank early. Pay small bills by cash. It helps.

Coleman Lions Club Sponsor Benefit Exhibition Hockey

During the later part of January the local Lions' club, believing that the citizens of Coleman would appreciate a good brand of exhibition hockey at the local arena since no senior or intermediate hockey was being played in the Pass, took steps to investigate the possibility of bringing two outstanding teams to our town with the thought that this would be a service to the community and at the same time would assist in the local and national war charities funds, which have been receiving the support of the local service club.

It was planned to correspond with the Calgary Buffaloes and the Lethbridge Bombers with the hope that these two teams could arrange to meet at our local arena at a minimum of expense in aid of the Lions British Child War Victims Fund and the Coleman Air Cadets Fund. It might be explained here that before Ottawa would consider the organization of a squadron of the Air Cadets in the Pass it was necessary for some reliable organization to assume responsibility, and on request the local Lions club guaranteed to become responsible to the department of militia at Ottawa for the Summit Squadron No. 73 of the Air Cadets of Coleman. This of course entails a definite financial obligation from time to time requiring a supplementing of cash funds.

In reply to our correspondence the Calgary Buffaloes very cordially agreed to come at a minimum of expense. The Lethbridge Bombers, having a full league schedule for the whole of February could not give any definite reply, though very ready, if a date offered itself, to participate in an exhibition benefit game for war charities. The Lions Club then turned to Kimberley and made a bid for the Dynamiters to oppose the Buffaloes, but their guarantee was prohibitive for the club to risk. Then having been assured of the co-operation of the local arena management the club turned to the local intermediate hockey players, who were most gracious in their whole-hearted co-operation in icing a Pass team at the very minimum of cost.

So after some negotiation the exhibition hockey game for war charities was brought to the local arena, on Saturday, February 13, and though there was some disappointment on the part of the Coleman Lions' Club as well as the citizens of the town that some of the Buffalo stars, whom we fully expected to see again in action, were not with the team, it must be remembered that the local sponsors of the benefit game were in no way responsible. Then unfortunately the weather conditions complicated matters still more, and the Coleman Club found itself up against difficulties aplenty. However the ice of the arena held up well and the exhibition game was a delight to the fair crowd of citizens who saw the game. The All-star team of the Pass gave us a fine brand of hockey when it was considered they had only a week to prepare for the contest, and they proved too strong and too fast for the short handed Buffaloes who matched them stride for stride during the first two periods, and the final count read 8-4 for the All-stars.

Though the game was put on under difficult conditions, the club had the closest co-operation on the part of the local All-star team, the rink management, Bill Gate, who officiated at the game to the satisfaction of all, J. V. McDougall of Blairmore, the chief time-keeper, the Grand Union management and other citizens of town who gave gracious assistance at the game Saturday night. To all those and those who patronized the Benefit Exhibition game the Coleman Lions' Club wish to convey their deep appreciation.

The pinch comes of course in that the game didn't prove much of a financial benefit, and for the information of the public the Lions' Club wishes to give a definite accounting of the project as follows:

Receipts from the sale of tickets	$216.30
Total expenditure	$287.50

The club took a beating on a seemingly safe venture, but the club is still solvent and hope for more successful ventures in the future and invite your continued co-operation.

Dear Sirs: Christmas and New Year's are all over and I want to thank you from the bottom of my heart for your wonderful gifts of cigarettes during the past year, and especially the Christmas parcel. Dear friends: Just a line to thank you and the members of the Legion for your nice Christmas greetings and for all the cigs. and parcels we have received throughout the year. The smokes are really appreciated and apart from the actual smoking enjoyment the knowledge that the folks at home are not forgetting us really goes a long way towards keeping us in good spirits. I would also like to thank the U.M.W.A. local for the special 1,000 cigs. just received. Yours sincerely—J. Hogan.

Dear Sirs: Thanking you for the 1,000 Sweet Caps, which I received this morning. Dan Daly.

NATIONAL SELECTIVE SERVICE

Complete Utilization of Canada's Manpower and Womanpower is Essential to Victory

National Selective Service Civilian Regulations aim at complete utilization of manpower and womanpower. Workers and employers are urged to assist the war effort by carrying them out. All civilian regulations have been consolidated and revised, main features now being as follows:—

COVERAGE

Employees: Regulations cover persons of either sex from 16 to 64 years old, except—provincial employees; armed services; and those in fishing, fish processing, hunting, trapping, clergymen; nurses; school teachers; domestic servants; students working after school; employees in respect of part-time employment; and any one employed for 3 days or less in a calendar week. Agricultural workers are covered by special provisions, not by the general provisions as also are "technical personnel."

Employers: Any person, firm or other employers, with one or more "covered" employees.

EMPLOYERS MUST—

(a) Refrain from discussing employment with a prospective employee unless under permit; (b) notify the nearest employment office of additional employees needed; (c) secure permission from an employment office to advertise for workers; (d) notify the employment office of intention to discharge or lay off employees, or to retain employees when not required; (e) give employees 7 days' notice unless a Selective Service Officer permits a reduction, or unless in the building construction industry: (7 days' notice is not required unless an employee has already been employed for one month, or after fire, explosion or other calamity, or on termination of work by weather. Whether preceded by 7 days' notice or not, separation from employment requires written notice).

EMPLOYEES MUST—

(a) Register for work at the nearest employment office if out of work 7 days (full-time students, housewives and clergy are not included); (b) secure permit from a Selective Service Officer if going to look for work; (c) refrain from advertising for a job unless Selective Service Officer approves; (d) give 7 days' notice if wishing to quit a job, unless authorized by Selective Service Officer to give less notice

(separation form, but not 7 days' notice required if in building construction or joining the forces).

AGRICULTURAL WORKERS

are covered by special provisions. Persons regarded as "workers in agriculture" may accept employment outside that industry to a maximum of 60 days within a calendar year without permit, but only outside urban municipalities of over 3,000 population; otherwise, agricultural workers must secure a Selective Service Permit.

TECHNICAL PERSONNEL

may only accept employment under special permit.

LABOUR EXIT PERMITS

are required to work outside Canada.

PENALTIES AND APPEALS

Penalties are provided for non-compliance with Regulations or orders issued thereunder. Appeals against directions may be made to a Court of Referees.

NATIONAL SELECTIVE SERVICE OFFICERS ARE AUTHORIZED TO—

(a) Give persons unemployed for 7 days, or on part-time for 14 days, direction to accept work; (b) exercise discretion in issuing permits to seek work; (c) authorize employed persons to transfer to more essential work, and subsequently to be reinstated in original employment; (d) reduce the 7 days' notice period consistent with Regulations.

THE MINISTER OF LABOUR IS AUTHORIZED TO—

(a) require a person in an age class subject to military call-up to accept employment; (b) require employers to release male persons failing to furnish evidence of not contravening military call-up; (c) authorize payment of transportation and special allowances in some cases; (d) authorize anyone to leave employment to take more essential work.

The foregoing is not an exact or complete reproduction of National Selective Service Civilian Regulations. For information or rulings apply to nearest Employment and Selective Service Office.

Wartime Traffic Brings C.N.R. Promotions

J. F. PRINGLE

The vital part which the Canadian National system is playing in Canada's war effort is graphically shown in a review of the branch of the railway's activities which comes under the direct supervision of Norman B. Walton, whose promotion to the position of executive vice-president was recently announced by President R. C. Vaughan. Mr. Walton, vice-president of operation, maintenance and construction prior to this appointment, will continue to exercise jurisdiction over this department, and perform such other duties as the president may delegate to him.

Under the direction of Mr. Walton are the forces concerned with the operation of trains, the maintenance of track and structures, and the company's motive power and car shops. He also has charge of the company's shipbuilding operations.

During the year 1942, this force moved more than 72,000,000 tons of munitions of war and other products of industry agriculture and natural resources. More than 2,500 locomotives and some 80,000 freight cars were in continuous service to handle this traffic. If all C.N.R. freight and passenger equipment, locomotives and work cars, could be set out on a single line of track, buffer to buffer, they would reach from Toronto to Miami, almost 1,100 miles.

Two other important staff appointments resulting from the tremendous increase in wartime traffic were also announced, that of J. F. Pringle to be general manager of the Atlantic extensive traffic over the railway's eastern lines. Mr. Appleton formerly carried on the duties both of vice-president and general manager. Mr. Walton, a native of Palmerston, Ont., has had 42 years' experience in railroading. He advanced from his first job as clerk and stenographer through the dispatcher's office to many supervisory positions which provided him with a wide knowledge of operating and traffic conditions. He has held important posts at Winnipeg, Edmonton, Prince Rupert, and other points in western Canada.

Mr. Pringle began his service with the Canadian National Railways in 1919 as an assistant engineer at Montreal. After filling important positions in that city and in Ontario he was appointed chief of transportation for the system in 1941.

Mr. Johnson, commencing as a telegrapher with the Grand Trunk in 1905, has had a railway career which gained him an intimate knowledge of the National System in Ontario and throughout the west where he occupied important supervisory positions for 27 years before his appointment to North Bay in 1936, and to Toronto five years later.

PROPOSED MEDICAL REFORM IN GREAT BRITAIN

According to an article by Charles Hill, M.D., Deputy Secretary of the British Medical Association, received from the British Ministry of Information by the Health League of Canada, British doctors are proposing that far-reaching changes be made in the present medical services in Great Britain. The article quoting the first Report of the Doctors' Planning Commission, recently published, says that it is urged that an era of centrally controlled, co-operative medical practice be ushered in.

The nation's health services, say the British doctors, should be based upon the family and upon the family doctor as the normal medical attendant and guardian. The first essential is not hospital service, they declare, but personal service, such as can be rendered by a family doctor who has the continuous care of the health of the families in his charge. They want group medical practice rather than individual medical practice.

The two great hospital services of Great Britain, say the doctors, should be assimilated into one unified system, embodying the great traditions and high standards of service of the voluntary hospital and backed by the enormous resources of the nation. They also urge the extension of National Health Insurance to wives and children, so as to bring within its ambit nine-tenths of the people of Britain. They argue that National Health Insurance has stood the test of thirty years and has proved itself sound, efficient and capable of development.

Most interesting proposal contained in the report, according to Dr. Hill, is that there should be set up a new central governmental authority concerned only with health and adequately advised on medical matters. This new authority would be assisted by a Medical Advisory Committee. There would be established new local authorities, large and rich enough to administer in their areas complete health services, and also advised by Medical Committees. In every district, except the most sparsely populated, the focus of medical practice would be the health centre. At each centre a group of doctors, backed by auxiliaries of all kinds, dispensers, nurses, etc., would provide a general medical service. This centre would be the first line of defence against disease, open to the whole population. Here the doctors would do their work for the vast majority of the community. The patients would be free to consult the doctor of their choice, and the doctors free to select the patients of their choice.

Under this scheme the medical inspection of school children, the examination of expectant mothers, immunization against diphtheria and other diseases, etc., would all be undertaken at the health centre. There would be special clinics for tuberculosis, venereal disease, child guidance and mental deficiency. Doctors would no longer buy and sell practices, and newcomers to medical practice would be appointed to a National Service and posted to a local health centre. They would be paid on the basis of a part-time salary plus an amount variable in proportion to the number of persons or families who choose to be treated by them.

The medical affairs of the centre would be in the hands of the doctors themselves, subject to the general administrative control of the local authority. It is argued that what the doctors would lose in personal freedom, they would gain in freedom to do better work, untrammelled by the financial and other burdens of private practice.

Ship Saver

Members of the Royal Canadian Navy's mine disposal squad, who are on constant alert for floating mines that carry sudden death for any ship afloat, are Canada's unsung and unheralded heroes. The group is under the direction of Lieut. George Rundle, above, shown using a blinker sign to warn nearby boats to clear away from a danger area, where the mines are spotted and exploded by machine-gun fire. The squad is an offshoot of England's famous mine and air bomb disposal organizations.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

FEBRUARY 21

JESUS THE GOOD SHEPHERD

Golden text: I am the good shepherd; the good shepherd layeth down his life for the sheep. John 10:11. Lesson: John 10. Devotional reading: Psalm 23.

Explanations and Comments
The Allegory of the True and the False Shepherds, John 10:1-5. Again we hear Jesus "Verily, verily, I say unto you"; it is an important lesson which he is about to teach.

In studying this parable, or allegory, we must remove from our minds any idea we may have of sheep pastures or barns in our land, and keep in mind that it is the Oriental shepherd and his flock that are pictured. A fold is usually a means of protection from robbers, for in Syria sheep stealing is said to be as much a profession as horse stealing in some other country. The fold is roofless, and is an enclosure stoutly built of rough stones to a height of about five feet; along the top of this wall is securely fastened a hedge of thorny brambles to prevent thieves from climbing over into the fold.

The flocks of sheep are small, and several neighboring flocks are brought at night by their shepherds to the one fold. There may be an iron-studded door, but usually there is only the opening where the sheep stand and blocks the way or moves aside to allow admission or departure, and thus he is himself virtually the door.

Jesus as the Door, John 10:6-10. The people to whom Jesus uttered this allegory did not understand its purpose, and he therefore began to explain it by saying, "Verily, verily, I say unto you, I am the door of the sheep." All that had come before him (who wrongly claimed authority) were thieves and robbers, but the sheep did not hear them. Compare Jesus' characterization of the Pharisees as "ravening wolves," "robbers," in Mt. 23:15; 23:13; Lk. 11:39; 22:67; 20:46, 47. By me if any man enter in (if any one believe in me as the way of salvation appointed by the Father and live according to that belief), he shall not perish, and shall go in and go out (an expression often met with in the Old Testament, meaning to engage in daily activities, enjoy full freedom and shall find pasture. The thief comes only to steal and kill and destroy, whereas the purpose of Jesus' coming was to give life, and to give it abundantly).

Jesus is the Good Shepherd, John 10:10-18. Jesus now changes the figure of himself as the Door to that of himself as the Good Shepherd. "Good" here does not mean here kind, but rather "genuine, true, as is shown by the contrast with the thief and the hireling. Compare Ps. 23: 50; Isa. 40:11; Ezek. 34:23, 37:24.

CAUSES MANY ACCIDENTS
Investigation of automobile wreckage at railroad crossings show a surprising number of cases in which the driver had all his windows closed and so could not hear the train whistle.

The longest railway tunnel in the western hemisphere is the Cascade in the state of Washington. It is 7.8 miles long.

Canada's Population

Revised Figures Have Placed It At 11,506,655

Revised figures for the final announcement of population, based on the 1941 census and issued by the Dominion bureau of statistics, place Canada's population at 11,506,655.

The new figure is 757 less than the previous figure given as final but adjusted by additional returns from the Northwest Territories which were originally reported to have a population of 12,785, now reported at 12,028.

The final figure for Canada, including the Northwest Territories, includes 5,906,336 males and 5,606,319 females.

BREAD helps to keep Canadians Strong... Vital

BREAD contributes to the most important nutritional needs—in large part helps to give Canada its high health record.

Delicious, nourishing bread supplies one-fourth of the food energy of Canadians.

Its rich carbohydrate content makes it the best and cheapest source of human fuel. And, made with its usual present-day milk formula, bread is also an important source of protein, equal to meat in maintaining muscular energy.

Eat more bread—and meet today's emergencies with greater vitality and energy!

NEW

Gasoline Rationing Plan Goes into Effect

APRIL FIRST

ON MARCH 31 the present gasoline ration licenses and coupons will expire, and no gasoline will be sold except upon the presentation of a 1943-1944 ration book.

In his own interests, every vehicle owner is asked to apply at once for a new gasoline license and ration coupon book for each of his vehicles.

Under the new system, effective April 1, all commercial vehicles will be rationed. All non-commercial vehicles will be granted a basic "AA" gasoline license and ration coupon book, containing 40 coupons for a passenger car, or 16 for a motorcycle. Owners of non-commercial vehicles eligible for a special category, who can prove their need, will be granted an extra vocational allowance, fixed in advance for the year ending March 31, 1944.

The extra allowance for a special category car will be tailored to meet individual needs. In determining this allowance the previous category and mileage of the car will not be considered. Instead the vocational allowance will be based on two factors: (1) The gravity of the oil shortage with which Canada is faced, and (2) the importance of the vehicle to its owner in a country at war.

The extra vocational coupons will be issued in books labelled "Special", and each such book will contain not more than 60 coupons. Only one "Special" book, or portion of such book, will be issued at a time, and hence the case history of each special category applicant will be under constant review.

Under provisions of the rationing order, the Oil Controller will have the right to refuse any application for a special category, or to suspend any ration book for an infraction of the regulations.

Every motor vehicle, other than a motorcycle, must bear on its windshield a sticker indicating its category. After April 1, service station attendants will not be permitted to serve gasoline to a car which does not bear the sticker which corresponds to the ration book submitted at the time of the purchase.

To obtain a gasoline license and ration coupon book, secure an application form at your nearest Post Office. Study the form and follow the instructions contained therein.

When you receive your ration coupon book, guard it carefully. It may not be replaced if, because of your negligence, it is lost or stolen. Do not leave it in your car; keep it on your person at all times.
